In 2012, Huguenot Society of South Carolina member John Perry (Jack) Strang of New York left a generous bequest “to fund an annual lecture which shall be known as The Strang Lecture.” We are pleased to announce that the inaugural Strang Lecture will be given at the Anniversary Meeting by Mr. Selden B. Hill. Mr. Hill will lecture on “McClellanville and the St. James, Santee Parish.”

To understand the history of the little village called McClellanville, it is necessary to first take a look at the history of St. James, Santee Parish which at the time of its incorporation was the home of 100 French and 60 English families. The plantations of the parish were richly endowed. The early settlers and their descendants engaged in the culture of indigo, rice, and cotton. Shortly after the Civil War, according to historian David Doar, summer resorts, “as much for social purpose as for health,” were established by the planters of the Santee region. Among them was the coastal village that would become known as McClellanville, South Carolina.

A native of McClellanville, Mr. Hill grew up in North Charleston and after a long career, mainly in the furniture industry, he... returned to his home town. He recently retired from his position as Founding Director of The Village Museum at McClellanville. Bud Hill served two terms as President of the Greater Charleston Furniture Dealers Association. He is a former President of the McClellanville Civic Club and served as Chairman of the McClellanville Architectural Board. Over the years he has worked on many conservation and preservation projects in the Charleston area. In 2007 the state of South Carolina conferred upon him The Order of the Silver Crescent in recognition of his public service. Along with Susan Hoffer McMillan he is the author of the pictorial McClellanville and the St. James, Santee Parish. Recently, he collaborated with William P. Baldwin on two award-winning books of photographs and poetry, The Unpainted South and These Our Offerings.

We look forward to seeing both members and visitors at the Anniversary Meeting, and hope that everyone enjoys the new location and format. Please RSVP for acceptances only to (843) 723-3235 or director@huguenotsociety.org.

FROM THE PRESIDENT, JOHN E. CUTTINO

I look forward to seeing each of you at the Society’s 2014 Annual Meeting, to be held this year on Thursday April 3, at the new location of Founders Hall at Charles Towne Landing. Our social reception will begin at 4:30 p.m., followed by the Annual Meeting which begins at 5:45 p.m. The change in the meeting day and time is in response to the good suggestions of many of you. The Board views this new format as an exciting opportunity, and we believe this change will make it possible for more members and guests to attend. This year’s speaker is Selden B. Hill, a noted area historian, who will discuss McClellanville and the St. James, Santee Parish.

In January, I and nine (9) Board members, Executive Director Renée Marshall, and Archivist Cheves Leland visited four (4) of the six (6) Huguenot Cross sites in the Lowcountry, each of which marks an original Huguenot settlement in South Carolina. In order, we visited the crosses at Orange Quarter St. Denis, French Santee, St. John’s Berkeley, and Goose Creek. While some of the locations are easy to reach, access to others required a degree of physical agility not used by several of us in quite some time! Even so, our adventure was meaningful, enriching, and served to remind us of our great heritage. We hope to visit the remaining two cross sites at New Bordeau and Purrysburgh very soon. As a reminder, the Society’s booklet entitled The Huguenot Crosses of South Carolina contains the history and maps of each site and can be purchased from the Society.

A brief moment of reflection is in order upon the recent death of Miss Betty-Ann Darby of Florence. Miss Darby was a longtime and loyal member and benefactor of our Society. She generously endowed the Society’s “Mary Mouzon Darby Undergraduate Scholarship” and was a devoted and faithful member. We are grateful for her many contributions to the Society.

This Annual Meeting will mark the end of my three year term as President of the Society. It has been a distinct honor and privilege to serve as your President. I have thoroughly enjoyed representing the Society at various speaking engagements, the meetings and events of numerous other social and historical organizations, and promoting the Society’s interests whenever possible. Especially memorable for me was the opportunity to represent the Society at events on Parris Island, South Carolina and in Jacksonville, Florida in May of 2012, in commemoration of the 450th anniversary of Huguenot Jean Ribault’s arrival at those locations in 1562.

My term as President was made much easier, and very enjoyable, through the extraordinary efforts and dedication of Executive Director Renée Marshall, archivist Cheves Leland, the Board of Directors, and our Past Presidents. Every one of them is deeply devoted to the ongoing success of the Society, and I offer my heartfelt thanks to each.

May we always be mindful of our heritage, the sacrifices of our ancestors, and the blessings of God.

The French Church of Charleston. A few entries found in Quarto 58, Consistory Minutes of the French Church of London from 1679-1689, published by the Huguenot Society of Great Britain and Ireland, offer some interesting information concerning the French Church of Charles Towne.

Quarto 58: 9. [from the Historical Introduction] “Before its end the Consistory had had to deal with enquiries from refugee churches from Ipswich and Rye in the South-East to Plymouth and Exeter in the South-West of England, and from Edinburgh in Scotland to Boston, New England and Charleston, Carolina in the New World. None of these churches had existed in 1679. Indeed, in some cases, the Threadneedle Street church was instrumental in establishing them.”

Quarto 58: 25: 26 October 1679. “Mr. Guerart reported that he is about to leave for Carolina with a number of families who intend to establish a church there. He asked us to suggest a pastor, to provide some advance for his maintenance and to assist those going to Carolina. It was resolved to reply that we asked God’s blessing on the enterprise, but that we have no means of providing financial assistance other than to assist such poor travelers as pass this way.” 1

Quarto 58: 31: 4 February 1680. “On Sunday February 1, having heard of the straits into which the families going to Carolina under Mr Guerard are reduced after being detained in the Downs (“aux Dunes”) for six weeks by contrary winds, it was resolved to assist them with £5. This will be distributed by Messrs Denew and Porten and de Lilliers and Neveu.” 2

Quarto 58: 39: 23 July 1680. “Mr Petit has asked assistance for the journey to Carolina; this was deferred, since it was not clear what use he wanted to make of the money.”

Quarto 58: 83: 9 August 1682. “Mr Laurens Vanderbos, going to Carolina, is to be presented with £2 and a Geneva bible, (quarto edition).” 3

Quarto 58: 143: 15 February 1685. “The deacons reported they were spending far more than they were receiving, and had exhausted their funds. Two elders and two deacons are to go to Sir Peter Colleton and Mr Pen to ascertain what they are offering for Carolina and Pennsylvania respectively; if the conditions are tolerable, the poor will be encouraged to accept them.” 4

Quarto 58: 144: 15 February 1685. “The deacons reported they were spending far more than they were receiving, and had exhausted their funds. Two elders and two deacons are to go to Sir Peter Colleton and Mr Pen to ascertain what they are offering for Carolina and Pennsylvania respectively; if the conditions are tolerable, the poor will be encouraged to accept them.” 4
Quarto 58: 29 March 1685. “The Two Companies resolved to send Messrs Piozet, David and Gervaise (sic) to the Savoy Consistory to discuss what could be done for the poor refugees asking to go to Carolina or Pennsylvania.”

Quarto 58: 159: 17 February 1686. “Pierre Marigaut (sic) returned to say he must leave for Carolina tomorrow [sic]. He will be received to make rec[onnaissance] next Sunday. [Done publicly 24 February.]”

Quarto 58: 311: 6 October 1689. “The directors of the French church of Charleston, Carolina have written seeking financial help; Mr Gravisset is instructed to reply that the Consistory is unable to provide it.”

[1] FCL, MS 5: ‘gerart.’ [Note: This was Jacob Guérard.]

[2] In 1679 the South Carolina proprietors had accepted a proposal from René Petit and Jacob Guérard to settle eighty refugee families in the colony. The assisted families went aboard the vessel Richmond on 17 December 1679 and landed in Carolina on 30 April 1680. (Jon Butler, The Huguenots in America 53, 93. Arthur H. Hirsch, The Huguenots of Colonial South Carolina 12.)

[3] Vanderbos or Vanderbose was a proposants, n[ative] of Hainault (FCL, MS 90, ff.129r, 130r).

[4] CLRO, ex-GH MS 347/1, authorizes the repayment (23 April 1689) of £15 to Daniel Duthais for money advanced to “Daniel Huger and others Poor French Protestants wh[i]ch were goeing to Pensilvania att or about the month of June 1685”.
